Re-imagining Protestantisms: Tent, Temple and Public Square.

Wittenberg, april 2016

Lectures

1. Rev. Dr. Michael Moynagh, Wycliffe Hall, Oxford:

Setting the scene. If Protestantisms is to find new relevance, what are the main (ecclesiological and sociological) questions we are facing in Europe?

2. Revd. Dr. Catherine Ball, St. Ives Free Church, England:

How can we reform the church for mission? What are the key characteristics for future shapes of Protestantisms with a missional relevance in our secular, postmodern and fluid societies?

3. Prof. Dr. Stefan Paas, VU University, Amsterdam, Netherlands:

Images of Protestantisms in Europe. An historical overview of renewal movements.

4. Prof. Dr. Manuela Kalsky, VU University, Amsterdam, Netherlands:

Multiple religious affiliations and the future of Protestantisms.

Today, doing theology in Europe means going to the virtual marketplace, where people meet each other in very different ways, playing with identities, narratives, imagination and desires and where God can be found in many spiritual guises.
